DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meyers et al (US 4,143,776) in view of Nakstami et al (US 5,586,387), and further in view of Bond et al (US 4,915,565).

Meyers discloses a turn over mechanism in col. 10 and a multiplicity of grippers arranged in a turret-like indexed manner 21.

Meyers fails to disclose two holders are suction pipettes and can be pivoted into a mutual transfer position, the holders, the clearance between the holders directed oppositely facing each other, in line with each other in the transfer position is somewhat larger than the thickness of the flip chips, and the movable placement head mounts components on a substrate.

Nakastami discloses two holders can be pivoted into a mutual transfer position, the holders, the clearance between the holders directed oppositely facing each other, in line with each other in the transfer position is somewhat larger than the thickness of the flip chips (Fig. 17).

Bond discloses suction pipettes and mounting components on a substrate (Fig. 8A).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Meyers by two holders are suction pipettes and can be pivoted into a mutual transfer position, the holders, the clearance between the holders directed oppositely facing each other, in line with each other in the transfer position is somewhat larger than the thickness of the flip chips, and the movable placement head mounts components on a substrate, as taught by Nakastami and Bond, for the purpose of flipping components without requiring lifting up the grippers to provide clearance and speeding up the mounting process by reducing the number of movable parts from the placement head.

NOTE: a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention (flip chips, components, a substrate, a leadframe) must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Conclusion

3. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity. Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.
